Witnesses were presented who told of seeing the doctor passing in his automobile to and from the house near Fort Humphrey which the State contends has become a residence because he has slept there and eaten there. The contention of the State was that a man can have but one domicile but can have several residences.

The defense declared that the doctor was merely a visitor in Virginia and that his residence is in the Distict and that the doctor can not afford to have his residence anywhere except the District because his position requires that he have residence in the District and also showed that the doctor had paid rent and had maintained an apartment in a District apartment house.

STUDY OF 1928 TAX RATE IS COMMEN BY COMMISSIONERS

Hard Problem Faced in View of Increased Valuation Placed on Real Estate.

COMPROMISE ON $1.70 GENERALLY EXPECTED

While Decrease From $1.80, Taxpayers Would Have to Pay More Than in 1927.

The District Commissioners yester and the district Commissioners yester-day held a special meeting to begin consideration of the tax rate for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Strict secrecy was maintained as to the de-liberations except that it was stated that no decision was reached.

secrecy was maintained as to the deliberations except that it was stated that no decision was reached.

It is said that the problem is giving the Commissioners great concern. The present tax rate is $1.80 on every $100 of assessed valuation of real and tangible personal property. But that appiles to a valuation of approximately $1,000,000,000, the old valuation. It raised revenue to meet a $35,000,000 budget, plus the usual supplemental appropriations.

But the assessed valuation of real estate has been increased, so that the total of real and tangible personal property to be taxed during the coming year will be approximately $1,250,000,000, or 25 per cent more than at present. And the 1928 budget, to meet which a tax rate is now to be fixed amounts to $40,000,000, an increase of $5,000,000, or 15 per cent, over the 1927 budget, for which a tax rate of $1.80 was fixed.

Formula Not a Simple One.

Formula Not a Simple One.

There are items both of revenue and expense that prevent application of the simple mathematical formula these figures seem to indicate, as, for instance, the fact that the Commissionfigures seem to indicate, as, for instance, the fact that the Commissioners no longer have to add 5 cents to the tax rate to raise $600,000 a year to build up the $3,000,000 "cash fund" ordered by Congress in 1922.

The Commissioners, therefore, are faced with choice as to whether they want to reduce the tax rate correspondingly as the assessed valuation of property has been increased to $1.50, or even as low as $1.45 and rigidly curtail expenditure in an economy program that will keep the taxpayers' bill about at its present level by eliminating many of the usual supplemental appropriations, or whether they will add materially to the sum each taxpayer will have to pay while seeking to reduce it by cutting the tax rate less. Observers expect the Commissioners to tread a course somewhere between the plan of the Citizens Advisory Council to keep the present tax rate and holding tax payments down to their present level with a $1.45 rate. It is expected that the Commissioners will name a rate about $1.70. If they do so, it will split the difference and jump the tax bill of each taxpayer 18 per cent, in view of the 25 per cent increase in assessed valuation.

Reports of Two Doctors on Prisoner Given Out by Attorney General.

Atlanta, June 8 (By A. P.).—Earl Carroll, New York theatrical producer, whose famous "bath tub" party on Washington's birthday last year resultwashingtons birthnay has year and a day for perjury, spent his first day as Fed-eral prisoner No. 24909 in bed. His term officially began shortly after dawn today when he entered the Fed-

The transfer from a hospital in Greenville, S. C., where Carroll had been confined since April 13, when he collapsed on a train, was "successful and everything is favorable;" Warden John W. Snook said. The prisoner was put to bed immediately and passed the day quietly, receiving no visitors.

Attorney General Sargent yesterday ordered Carroll's removal to Atlanta after he said physicians sent by him to examine the producer reported that "there is nothing the matter with him." However, Mrs. Carroll, who accompanied her husband here, believes "that the removal of her ill husband to the penitentiary means sure death for him." Earl Carroll's brother Norman said. "She feels bitter at the Government for disregarding the diagnosis of her husband's condition by the five different specialists other than those employed by the Government," he continued.

The statement issued by the Attorney

The specialist made an examination and submitted a report with the following conclusions, the Attorney General

"My examination revealed no posi-tive evidence of mental disease, and the is my belief that his mental and physi-cal condition would not interfere with his being transported to the United States Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.; however, I am of the opinion in view of the extreme nervous condition of the patient and the evidence of an ex-citable nervous make-up, that to con-fine him in the penitentiary would pos-sibly bring about definite mental dis-order."

The general practitioner submitted a report with these conclusions, Mr. Sargent said:

"From the above examination my conclusions are that this patient's despondence and emotional state have been and are interfering with his nutrition, and that his physical condition is entirely normal; that he shows no indication of a psychosis and that there is nothing from a mental or physical standpoint at the present time, in my opinion, that makes it improper that he be transferred to the Federal prison been and are interfering with his nutrition, and that his physical condition

Sorority Wants Flier To Attend Flood Ball

The committee of the Sigma Delta Chi Sorority which is giving a ball at the Mayflower Saturday night for the benefit of the Mississippi flood sufferers is anxiously waiting definite word from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as to whether he will attend the affair.

Success or failure of the ball depends to a large extent on his willingness to be present, it is said. Miss Betty Shorey, who is in charge, is optimistic as to the possibilities of having the world's celebrity present, but in the meantime is arranging numerous features to entertain those who attend.

The message paid tribute to the achievement of American engineers and the creators of the motor and the body of the Columbia.

Radicals See Danger. Radicals See Danger.

The only discordant notes amid the paeans of praise and rejoicing came from a few papers of the left, notably the Communist Rote Fahne (Red flag), which charges that the expeditions of Lindbergh and Chamberlin are tests by "American imperialism" of the possibilities of aviation, with a view to later bombing attacks from the air.

The left democratic Volkszeitung observes, "unfortunately the bright gicture of this great technical achievement also shows up some dark shadows. Here, too, militarism will seize upon the crossing of the ocean as an excuse for making military use of the Americans' flight."

The greatest honor Germany could pay Clarence D. Chamberlin, the newspaper Achtuhr Abendblatt suggests, would be to send him back to the United States on a German manof-war, preferably the cruiser Berlin.

This already has been suggested to the government and the naval ministry, says the paper, which adds: "This honor would show the American people more than anything else how proud (Germany is over the fact that the two countries no longer are divided by the ocean."

The offer of $100,000 to Chamberlin and Levine by American 'nterests if they would fly back to the United States was made by the Hearst newspapers. Asked which messages interested him most, Levine said: "It would be a long story to tell you all that, but I will say that a message which interested me greatly was that from Chamberlin's dad. I'll dig it out for you later."

"Yesterday afternoon, after you fellows left, I had a chance to autograph a few postcards to send to friends and well-wishers back home. I hope they got off in time to make the next mail boat to the United States." Levine, who had been induserously signing cards for the correspondents, smilingly remarked, "I hope includy will try to collect on us if we have been signing I. O. U's inadvertently."

The interview, in which both the German and foreign newspaper men were received, turned into a wild autograph scramble at the outset. Scores of the newspaper men rushed to the filers presenting cards and pens and requesting their signatures. Only with difficulty could the other correspondents, who were anxious to question the aviators elbow their way to them.

Chamberlin was about to quit writing when an Italian correspondent begged him to autograph a picture, with the pleas: "It's for Mussolini."

"If that's the case, I'll sign with pleasure," said Chamberlin.

Ambassador Schurman, replying to a congratulatory message on the flight of the Columbia from Foreign Minister Stresemann, today sent the following London, June 8 (By A. P.).—Four British flying boats will soon start on a flight from England to Australia by way of Singapore, under the command of group Capt. Henry Cave-Browne-Cave, of the royal air force, with Squadron Leader G. E. Licock second in com-mand.

Leader G. E. Licock second in command.

The route will be to India by way of the Mediterranean to Singapore, the Dutch Indies, and then around the Australian seaboard. The latter part of the flight will be in conjunction with the royal Australian air force. The flying boats are now being fitted with Napler-Lion 450-horsepower engines, are of the new metal hulled type, with ample space for a navigator's chart table, and a wireless operator's section. Control and gunnery cockpits will be a feature of the machines, and they will contain collapsible bunks so that the crew can sleep aboard.

It is likely the flying boats will eventually be stationed at Singapore to work with the new naval base there.

by Flier.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, transatlantic filer, has declined to accept a trust fund for himself and mother, according to a statement made public yesterday by Secretary of War Davis. The statement explained that shortly after his flight, several admirers requested the Secretary of War to head a committee to receive popular subscriptions of small amounts for creation of a trust fund with income at the disposal of Col. Lindbergh and his mother during their lives. Louis K. Liggett, Boston; Joseph W. Wear and George Brooke, Philadelphia, were among those who made the request, but Harry Knight, representing the St. Louis sponsors of Col. Lindbergh, came to Washington for a conference with Secretary Davis, and said he did not think the filer would accept the gift. Decision was reached finally to cable Col. Lindbergh the offer, so that if he accepted, President Coolidge might be requested to present the trust deed at the local reception Saturday. Lindbergh received the cable when in London and although replying with thanks and appreciation, stated he could not accept the offer.

In addition to an invitation from the Austrian government, which is anxious to have the American filers attend next week's music festival, the Czechoslovakian Minister here has extended an official invitation to the Americans to attend the International Aeronautical Exposition at Prague.

It is also understood that an invitation will come from Italy, which is particularly interested in the flight because Giuseppe Bellanca, designer of the Columbia, was born in Sicily.

New York, June 8 (By A. P.) .- Fred M. Sealy, Hempstead, L. I., postmaster is "sorry, very sorry" that he stamped the mail which was carried to Germany in the Bellanca monoplane Columbia by Charles A. Levine, flight companion of Clarence D. Chamberlin.

Sealy said today that he has sent to Washington a report on the incident, which is under investigation by the Postoffice Department.

"Gosh!" he said, "I didn't mean any harm. I felt patriotic and wanted to do a personal favor, that's all. I'm sorry I got into this mix-up. I didn't know that there was any controversy between the postoffice and Mr Levine."

Former State Senator Charles C. Lockwood, counsel for the Columbia Aircraft Corporation, of which Levine is managing director, issued a statement explaining his connection with the incident. Berlin, June 8 (By A. P.).—The sailing of Mrs. Chamberlin and Mrs. Levine, who are now on the high seas en route to Germany, creates somewhat of a problem, it was frankly admitted by Levine today.

"There is no doubt we will have a new situation to face when our wives arrive, happy though we are at the news of their coming," he said. "We naturally can not take them along in the plane in case we fly to Vienna, Rome and other cities, nor do I know exactly where we can best arrange to rejoin them.

"This is an added reason why our plans must necessarily be held in abeyance for the present. We haven't had time to collect our thoughts."

Both Levine and Chamberlin again today declined to state what mileage they claimed for the Columbia's flight. Levine said: "We still haven't had time to figure it out."

Houses Are Overturned.

Houses everywhere in the district are overturned. Others are covered 3 feet or more deep with the thick mud. The storm washed from the hillsides which border the river boulders 10 feet long and 5 feet in height and thickness.

At Hazard, fire hose was in use to clear the streets of mud. Household furniture and planos were swept from homes into the raging river, and other furniture, warped and ready to fall apart was strewn helter-skelter through the houses. Tables and other furniture were left hanging from tree tops.

Up the stream from Hazard the valley is dotted with tents where refugees with blankets and clothing are living since their houses were washed down the river.

with blankets and clothing are living since their houses were washed down the river.

The property loss in Perry County was estimated at $3,000,000 besides a loss of $275,000 a week to miners in wages. Hazard suffered a loss of $750,000 in property. More than 4,000 were homeless with 500 houses covered with mud from a depth of six inches to three feet still occupied. Clothing has been issued to 500 persons who lost all their belongings in the disaster.

Treasury Department to make the next reductions apply to the March income tax returns.

A tax cut of some $300,000,000 or more is expected. Passage of the deciclency bill, which was caught in the last Senate filibuster and has caused serious trouble throughout the country because of its failure to become enacted into law, is also planned by Senator Smoot and Republican leaders. On the other hand, independent Republican leaders such as Senator Borah are understood to have been doubtful as to whether the President contamplated an extra session. And Senator King, Democrat, who has stanchly supported the President's refusal to call an extra session on account of the flood, said yesterday that he was absolutely against the President's reported plan to call the Congress earlier than the regular session in December.

"Business wants a rest." said Senator King, "and nothing will be gained by calling a special session this fail." The year is bound to be a political year, in view of the conventions, and the session is bound to be a political session. Calling Congress into session earlier simply means more political freworks, more bills of a political fraworks.

2 TREATIES NOW BAN WAR

Although Premier Briand of France has inquired informally whether the United States Government would be disposed to take up negotiations rela tive to a treaty outlawing war, the State Department here has made no too direct to private property holders, and local communities, municipalities and States for them to expect to be relieved of all financial burden. This should be clearly understood by all.

"Early heafings by the committees of commerce are being urged by many. The solution of the flood control problem is one largely for the engineering experts. Nothing will be gained by starting hearings until the Government engineers and other agencies connected with such studies are prepared to present a well-matured plan." move to expedite the matter. The re-action, in official circles, appears to be decidedly unfavorable to agitating this

It was explained at the State De-partment yesterday that Secretary partment yesterday that Secretary Kellogg has been too busy to take the matter up and it was added that the United States Government has already entered into a treaty with France which accomplishes the purpose which Briand professes to be interested in. America, it is pointed out, has a treaty of arbitration with France, signed in 1908, and has also a treaty on the advancement of peace, signed in 1914. The first article of this latter treaty reads as follows:

"Any disputes arising between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the French Republic, of whatever nature they may be, shall, when ordinary diplomatic proceedings have failed and the high contracting parties do not have recourse to arbitration, be submitted for information and report to a permanent international commission constituted in the manner prescribed in the following article:"

This treaty, officials explained yesterday, appears to come about as close to a treaty between the two nations to preven war as could be obtained.
Officials here said they believed this treaty had been overlooked by the agitators for the new Briand plan.

U. S. Jury Finds King Not Guilty at Athens, Ga., Trial; Many Witnesses Called.

Athens, Ga., June 8 (By A. P.).—Dr. W. R. King, prominent physician-farmer, of Oglethorpe county, was found not guilty by a Federal court jury here early tonight on a charge of peonage. Although he said he had whipped four negro employes on the Oglethorpe County plantation he formerly operated. Dr. King vigorously denied at his trial that he ever used force to keep laborers on the farm or that he kept any one there against his will.

Dr. King was on the witness stand for nearly two hours after more than a score of defense witnesses had testified that laborers on his plantation were not mistreated and were paid.

The man who has the soundest opinion on questions like the following is the man who is going to come closest to steering his business straight during the next few months.

Situation: The government has saved some money. It has a surplus. If everything goes about as now, the government probably will have a surplus every year—a real nice healthy one, say $175,000,000 or so. Question: Shall we spend it for public improvements? Or give it to the tax-payer as a tax cut? Or apply it against our national debt? (Hint: before answering, get fully posted. Read "Cut Taxes, Pay Debts or Spend," by Ogden L. Mills, Under-secretary of the Treasury, in June Nation's Business.)

Another: What does your painter think of the war in China? Do you and he realize how and why it affects his business and your building maintenance costs? In what way has the great stone dam at Assuan been a factor in the automobile business? How has Miss America's hankering for artificial silk stockings helped make the Egyptian farmer more prosperous than since King Tut's day? (Suggestion: For full understanding of tremendous importance of international interdependence read William C. Redfield's "China Silks and Iowa's Pigs" in June Nation's Business.)

And another: What groups are fighting to sell you the apple you eat? What does the outcome of the fight mean to you? Is the prosperity of the farming northeast increasing or on the wane? (For valuable data on the situation in sectional farming, read "The Farming East Fights Back," by President Ralph D. Hetzel, of Pennsylvania State College, in June Nation's Business.)

Shall buses to Atlantic City, for example, be regulated as competing railroads are? The roads threaten to curtail service. When are bus and truck common carriers? Who shall regulate them, and how? Ticklish questions? Read "How Regulate the Bus and Truck?", by Charles W. Stark, in June Nation's Business.

And the most asked question of all-"How's business?" How's business over the Country? In each state? Can you give a concise, reliable answer? Can you? (Important: Frank Greene of Bradstreets can and does, by weighing thirty odd factors of business, and combining them in his "Map of Nation's Business" which appears every month in Nation's Business and is one of its most studied, most valued features.)

The successful business man, in any branch of business or industry, is the man who can answer most questions correctly, as they crop up in his daily work.

Every month, Nation's Business gives its readers the background understanding of business currents and undercurrents; the basis for judgment instead of mere hunch.

2 AMERICANS ACCUSED OF ILLEGAL ARMS DEAL

generally will evacuate the city in the near future.

A majority of Americans remain in the city, which is orderly and well policed. It is feit that there is a minimum danger from internal disorders since the antiforeignism, such as existed in south China, never has gained a real foothold here. Although some of the British residents are moving into the legation quarter, and the Japanese are sending many women and children home, the Americans and other foreigners generally are sticking to nor-

Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler has gone to Tientsin, where the American Marine force today was disembarking, after its trip from Shanghai. Dispatches from Tientsin said that large crowds of Chinese and foreigners watched the unloading of artillery, caterpillar tractors and tanks, being particularly impressed with the completeness of the American equipment.

ticularly impressed with the completeness of the American equipment.

Diplomats Oppose Moving.

Although it is known that the American military authorities favor removal of the Peking legation to the coast, whereas the diplomatic representatives feel such a move might be misinterpreted, advices from Washington indicate it is felt there that a wholesale evacuation of Peking would be necessary only if the situation should threaten to entrap foreigners as in the Boxer uprising of 1900.

Negotiations for a combination of north and south China military leaders with peace as its goal are still in progress, while the military situation has reached a stalemate, Marshai Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, the moderate nationalist generalissimo, and Yen Hai-Shan, military governor of the province of Shansi, are still in communication, but nothing further of their plans has been made public.

Observers believe that Chang Tso-Lin will remain in Peking for at least several weeks and that when he turns the city over, as is ultimately expected, the process will be peaceable and will be by arrangement among the principal war lords concerned.

Miss Pope was willed an annuity of $8,000 by McClintock, who left the remainder of his estate to Shepherd.

Shepherd was acquitted two years ago of causing the youth's death by administering typhoid germs. He never has obtained the estate, several distant cousins of McClintock suing to break the will.

The president, who met his wife's body yesterday at the town of Ruiz in the state of Nayairi, left his train and followed the hearse which proceeded to Chapultepec Castle where the body will rest in state for a tew hours, after which interment will be made at the Dolores Cemetery.

Charge d'Affaires H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld and the entire staff of the American Embassy were present at the station, this being the only foreign mission with the entire personnel in attendance. Mexican officials expressed their appreciation of this formal evidence of the American Government's sympathy and respect.

The ceremonies at Dolores Cemetery were to consist only of a brief oration by Secretary of Education Pulg Casauranos, the firing of a presidential salute and the playing of the national anthem. Huge Sun Spot Grows; SOUTHEAST LIBRARY May Affect the Radio IS TERMED EYESORE Williams Bay, Wis., June 8 (By A. Frost, head of the institution. Business Men's Body Asserts Building Is Evidence of Indifference. stitution.

It consists of a group of spots, composed of gasuous matter, extending several thousand miles into the sun and measuring about 200,000 miles in its largest diameter. It is visible to the protected naked eye, in the center of the sun as it now faces the earth, and will be for five or six days.

Its only probable effect upon the earth would be hindering of telegraphic, radio and cable communication in event of a magnetic storm, Dr. Frost said.

RECEPTION TO COL. LINDBERGH.

Enormous crowds will come to Washington to share in the welcome to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh next Saturday. The first wave of the flood is already here. Thousands of the visitors will come by automobile, and the police will find difficulty in handling the increased traffic and in providing suitable parking.

On account of the fact that the ceremonies at the Monument will be open to the public without reservation or ticket arrangements. the crowd may be very hard to keep in check. The traffic jam at the same hour will tax the resources of the Police Department. Probably it will be found necessary to employ troops at the Monument Grounds.

Pennsylvania avenue can accommodate at least 200,000 sightseers on sidewalks, in windows and on roofs. The Capitol Plaza also will doubtless be occupied. As the procession moves toward the Monument Grounds it is probable that the street crowds will move in that direction also, pressing upon the crowd of 100,-900 or more that will be already assembled. Thus the necessity of providing ample police and military control is evident.

Instead of holding its reception to Lindbergh at the auditorium of the United States Chamber of Commerce on Saturday evening, the National Press Club will receive him at the Washington Auditorium.

An opportunity to see Col. Lindbergh will be afforded during his trip to Arlington and thence to Walter Reed Hospital on Sunday

No doubt additional thousands will try to witness the departure of Col. Lindbergh on Monday morning from Bolling Field.

The unprecedented public interest in this heroic American and the nature of the welcoming ceremonies make it certain that the crowds in Washington on Saturday and Sunday will be hard to manage with comfort and safety. Individuals can contribute to the desired end by deciding beforehand where they will stand, and then refraining from trying to take in all the ceremonies.

USE OF SHIPPING ENTRANCES.

Merchants and business men have reason to be pleased with the new regulation adopted by the commissioners prohibiting parking in front of shipping entrances, but permitting vehicles, whether owned by the merchants or his customers or vendors from whom he buys, to stop therein for time sufficient to load or unload passengers or merchandise. Some time ago the courts decided that the old regulation, which permitted the director of traffic to designate such entrances and prohibit all parking therein save by the vehicles of the merchant or the vendor from whom he was receiving a shipment, was discriminatory and therefore illegal. No been found to reword the regulation so that the ordinary activities of commerce will no be hampered.

Trade can not be carried on without a means of egress from shops and stores. The parking problem being what it is, merchants have been sorely handicapped in getting goods to their stores and in dispatching merchandise to customers. Under the new regulation merchants will not only have space available for their trucks but the shopper also will find a cleared space into which his automobile may be driven long enough for its occupants to alight. The new regulation is wisely drawn. and should aid materially in relieving traffic

REGULATION OF TAXICABS.

Monopolized hacking privileges at hotels solicitation of passengers by operators of sightseeing buses and the cruising taxicab have been sore problems with the Police Departmeat for some time. Mai. Hesse has been studying the situation for over a year and finally has evolved a plan for relief, providing for the establishment of cabstands sufficient for at least 800 vehicles, from which private vehicles will be barred at all times, and for the banning of all sidewalk solicitation of passengers.

The department has had difficulty obtaining convictions against operators of taxicabs accused of cruising for the reason that there had not been designated a sufficient number of pulic vehicle stands to accommodate the demand. If the recommendations of Mai. Hesse's report are carried through stands will be established contiguous to all important hotels and in other suitable locations throughout the city. Thereafter cruising can be placed under control. Present regulations also provide against solicitation of business by operators of public hacks. This has been held to exempt sightseeing bus operators, however, who have ed the practice of placing themselves on the sidewalks besides their buses, soliciting business to the inconvenience and embarras ment of the public. The proposed regulation extends the ban applying to hack operators to ing taxicabs contribute seriously to traffic congestion in the downtown area. Once they are removed from the streets, except when actually carrying passengers, the streets should be perceptibly clearer. In addition, by providing adequate stands scattered throughout the city the large amount of space monopolized around prominent hotels will be released for the parking of private vehicles. Furthermore, some 200 stands placed at strategic points throughout the city should aid taxicab operators themselves. The report of the superintendent of police deserves the most favorable consideration.

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD CONFERENCE.

Mayor Thompson of Chicago, accompanied by a committee representing each State affected by the Mississippi flood, will call on President Coolidge soon to present the resolutions of the flood-control conference, recently held at Chicago. These resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, That without delaying the carrying into execution of such imperacarrying into execution of such imperatively necessary measures as may be recommended by existing governmental agencies, the President of the United States is requested to call a conference for the purpose of formulating, in conjunction with such governmental agencies, a comprehensive plan for navigation and permanent flood control, said conference to be composed of army engineers, civil engineers, conservationists, scologists. engineers, conservationists, geologists, financiers, agriculturists and other experts representing the various interests of our country; and petitions the President of the United States and the Congress to energetically undertake and carry to a speedy con-clusion comprehensive and effective meas-ures for permanent flood control of the Mississippi River and all its tributaries.
Resolved further, That the conference

As no commission can be created without authority of law, the best that can be done at this time is to call a national conference. President Coolidge can accomplish substantially what is needed by calling a conference composed of experts of national standing, to deal with the various phases of the problem that confronts the country. If this conference is made up of the right kind of men it will work out a plan, without cost to the government, upon which Congress can deliberate and Unless a conference is called, at least a year will elapse before any plan whatever can be submitted to Congress. Public opinion strongly supports the procedure recommended by the Chicago conference, and would be well pleased if President Coolidge would appoint a suitable list of conferees to begin work without delay. The manifold features of the flood control problem present in their entirety one of the most baffling questions that could be put up to Congress. It is highly desirable that these branches of the general problem be considered at once, in order that a general plan may be evolved in time for consideration by Congress next winter.

RED TAPE AND WHISKY.

The Department of Justice has advised hos pitals and United States marshals that the former may obtain alcohol from the latter, if the official happens to have a supply on hand that has been seized. Of course, the marshal will make the sales "unsight unseen" and will be in no sense responsible for the quality The law does not make the marshal responsible for the quality of any seized booze, and the buyer must take his chances-"caveat emptor"

The hospital that finds itself suddenly called upon to obtain alcohol with which to save life can get it very easily under the rules promulgated by the Department of Justice. All it has to do is first to obtain, through the marshal, and then through the district attorney of the United States an "order from the court directing that such alcohol be sold to the institution applying for such privilege, at the price to be determined by the court, providing the institution possesses a permit from the Federal prohibition administrator to purchase the alcohol."

Nothing could be simpler. Of course, a district attorney will be on hand at all times, day or night, to prepare the petition to the court under which that tribunal will, forthwith and without delay, summon to its aid a competent judge of the value of alcohol, who will advise the court "the price to be deter mined." and then, if the prohibition administrator has not gone fishing over the week-end and after full investigation is satisfied that the hospital in question is not under the domination of bootleggers, he may grant the required permit.

Any one who has ever had occasion to, get marshal to ask a United State's attorney to request a judge on the United States bench to determine the value of a gallon of alcohol and to authorize the aforesaid marshal to dispose of the desired quantity to a hospital or charitable institution will appreciate the simplicity of the process.

Those who have had no such experience will perhaps apply to a reliable bootlegger-who pays income taxes-if they are in a hurry for medicinal alcohol.

"AMERICANESE."

While countless high school students engaged on final examinations for the scholastic year are endeavoring to give a good and sufficient explanation as to why the English spoken in the United States is different from the English spoken in England and on that recondite subject are volunteering theories that simply make the astounded examiners gasp, certain British newspapers are devoting their columns to showing up the thing of horror into which they allege the mother tongue is being rapidly perverted on this side of the Atlantic. These animadversions conveniently leave out of account the incontrovertible fact that the well of English is no longer undefiled in the country which has been its home for nearly 1,500 years, and that the language, as it comes more or less trippingly through the lips of the average Englishman, is something fearfully and wonderfully made. The denizen of the Seven Dials district of London would, for a time at least, be helplessly at sea if confronted with a Durham miner and required to understand his largon, and both would be equally puzzled by

The coinage of slang is one of the American proclivities which is particularly reprobated by he English journalistic guardians of the purity of English speech. One of these recently suppiled to an enterprising newspaper two of American slang expressions meant to indi-cate the state of drunkenness in various stages.

Whether the idea was to make this another offense chargeable to prohibition and its non-enforcement is not apparent, but, at all events, the list, while it contained many phrases in common use and intelligible to everybody, included also numerous others so far-fetched as to be practically unrecognizable to most Americans, no less than to most Englishmen. The English themselves are, of course and notoriously, inventors of slang. For example, what American would have dared to suggest, "He is balmy on the crumpet" as a substitute for "He has a slate off" or "He is slightly crazy?"

"Americanese," as it is disrespectfully called has been roughly handled by its English critics, but to its rescue comes the Society of Pure English, which, in one of its latest brochures, points out that to American genius and inventiveness is due the incorporation of many useful words and phrases "in the structure of our common tongue." In proof of this statement it cites locutions such as to take a back seat, to face the music, to have a good time and several others.

On the whole, there is much to be said for the contention of the spirited American schoolboy who, in answer to the question alluded to at the beginning of this article, made the emphatic declaration: "In matters of language, as well as in every other matter, we refuse to accept outside dictation."

DANGERS OF GOLF.

Golf is the third most dangerous sport so far as accident frequency is concerned, according to a report just made public by a large insurance company. Only baseball and hunting surpass it in danger to the participant. Last year, for instance, this company paid out about $4,500,000 for injuries sustained in some 33,000 accidents. Baseball showed 634 accidents, and mishaps "in country or woods" totaled 571. Golf was responsible for 451 accidents, for which the company paid out nearly $62,000.

"Struck by lightning" was not an uncom mon accident, according to the report. "Foreign particle in the eye" took a toll of six followers of the sport of St. Andrew. Splinters, bites by insects, collisions with inanimate objects and poison from shrubs contributed their share of mishaps, but the most common accident was slipping or falling on uneven ground. Even the nineteenth hole was no haven of refuge, for twelve individuals were "cut on sharp instruments," subsequently identified as 'bottles."

Another tradition, that regarding the danger of football, is thus upset. What is the golfer to do? Shall he put aside his putter and niblick, and retire to the comparative security of his home hearth? Maybe he should, but it is certain that he will not. Once the golf bug bites, inoculations of any sort are of no use whatsoever. Knowledge that danger lurks behind each tee will not keep the daring golfer from his sport. It may even be that the danger adds to the zest of the game, that in the peril lies the fascination.

SAVING 600,000 LIVES.

As a result of scientific methods of water purification, 600,000 persons are alive today who otherwise would be in their graves, in the opinion of Abel Wolman, chief sanitary engineer for Maryland. Chlorination and filtration, aided by milk inspection and police control of known carriers, have cut the typhoid fever death rate from 40 per 100,000 in 1900 to less than 5 per 100,000 at the present time.

It is unfortunate that in matters of this sort progress has to be measured by guesses and estimates. The public realizes, of course, that modern methods of preventing disease have cut down annual death tolls, and have added to the expectancy of life. Subconsciously, however, each individual feels that in any event death would have passed him by, and although he agrees to the theoretical advantage of public health conservation movements, he has little or no personal interest in them.

Public servants working toward control of disease contribute far more to public happiness and prosperity than they are ever given credit for. The fact that, but for typhoid control, 600,000 individuals now living would be in their graves is an indication of the enormous economic value of sanitary work,

SYNTHETIC FOOD.

L. A. Hawkins, engineer of the research laboratory of the General Electric Co., says that synthetic food is by no means an impossibility of the future, and that the likelihood is that the food factory may supersede the farm. The electron is to be the catalytic Comparatively recently, according to Mr. Hawkins, science has discovered that vitamins are to food what the soul is to man. More recently it has been found that certain vitamins, at least, can be produced artificially Food lacking in the vitamins necessary to prevent rickets, for instance, may be made antirachitic by treatment with ultra-violet or cathode rays. What is true of one vitamin may be true of others, and if this is so, the full nutritional value of natural foods should not only be equaled but surpassed by the products of chemistry.

One hopes, however, that science will be too busy with other matters to push its experiments along this line. In time of war, of course, particularly if there should be a blockade, it would be a handy thing to turn to factory for life-sustaining synthetic food. During peace, however, when one can go to the gardens of the Nation and pluck green peas and strawberries in abundance, it would be a pity if the cheaper product of the food factory should discourage all attempts to market fresh fruits and vegetables. Granting that they would be even more nutritious than the natural variety, granting that they would be more easily digestible and more wholesome, what commercial genius could duplicate the duce in a test tube a single ear of tender golden bantam corn on the cob? The thought of synthetic food is enough to bring tears. Let science continue its experiments along other lines.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

No Food or Drink Dictators. To the Editor of The Post-Sir: Som of the "drys" are trying to make capital out of the fact that Lindbergh is a teetotaler and that part of the reason for his success is due to the fact that his system is free from the "poisons" of alcohol and tobacco. It is a rare and most fortunate chance for them that they are able to point to such a fine example of young manhood for their propaganda instead of to the average sallow-cheeked teetotaler. As a general rule total abstainers have done very little to advance the human either physically, mentally or morally.

For every habitual drunkard there are 10,000 people who drink and smoke temperately and to their lasting benea million times more happiness to the human race than the harm they have done to a few weaklings who ought to die off, anyway. A called to our attention the fact that a typographical error in our recipe for hot cakes gives us a proportion of three tablespoons of baking powder where there should be only three teaspoons of the powder. This would indeed be a disaster, and I sincerely hope no one made hot cakes at once, before this follow-up information appears. Will you make the correction on the slip of paper clipped from the paper if you are saving the recipe, for sometimes, although we make a mental note of a situation, we do not always remember the exact proportion of a sometimes, although we make a mental note of a situation, we do not always remember the exact proportion of a change of quantities.

Let us today revert to our menu, which has been absent for a time because of request recipes. And as tomorrow is Friday, shall we not plan a menu that may accommodate either fish or meat as a main dish. We look and plan constantly for weather that is to require the foods that June should require, and in planning I like to take into consideration the fact that the day that finds this particular column in the paper will probably be a hot and, therefore, an ovenless day. The escalioped potatoes that are included in this menu may be omitted if one wishes; also the hot biscuits, for it may be very warm, and we may not wish to operate our oven at all. In this case I shall give you today substitutes for the recipes that may be omitted.

Iced Tea And today, also in addition to these two recipes that may take the place of escalloped potatotes and hot biscuits. I am going to give to you a number of recipes that will, I think, he worth using as the summer advances.

(In place of the potatoes.)

Hard boil six eggs and when they are fairly cool cut them in halves and remove the yolks. Mash the yolks in a bowl and add to them a seasoning of onion-juice to taste, salt and pepper, butter (that has been melted) and a bit of the white sauce that is to be made to use with this egg dish. Our white sauc. we will remember, is not to be made by heating the milk and adding a water mixed flour for thickening, but butter is to be melted in a saucepan, salt added to it, then sufficient flour to make a thick paste, (two tablespoons of butter require approximately a like amount of flour measured in heaping tablespoons) and then add hot milk, stirring the whole to a smooth paste. This is the correct manner in which to make a satisfactory white sauce, the other method produces a sauce that tastes of its flour whick which is add the seasoning we may do to prevent it. (In place of the potatoes.)

produces a sauce that tastes of its four thickening in spite of all the seasoning we may do to prevent it.

When the sauce has been made add renough of it to the yolks of the eggs to moisten them, and then return them to the halves of egg white from which they were removed. Place these little halves in a layer, yolk sides up. In a baking dish, and cover with part of the sauce. Cover again with a layer of eggs, and then with the remainder of the sauce. Cover again with a layer of eggs, and then with the remainder of the sauce. Dot the top with butter and add a sprinkling of paprika, and place in the oven until the whole is thoroughly heated. Serve in the dish in which the eggs are arranged, either with or without accompanying dish of 1.

Now, then, what shall we have in place of this suggestion of hot biscuits which appeared in our menu today. Almost anything that we might substitute would require the oven, would it not? No—not quite everything. We may, for instance, have delicious homemade, steamed brown bread, which has a quantity of good in it from the point of view of food value—and also is not in the least difficult to prepare. It is—in addition—prepared and then cooked by steam on the top of the stove—as its name implies. Here is a splendid recipe for this food. It may be kept in a closed tin for some time and be, thereby, on hand for not this one occasion, but for several. We may, if we like, prepare slices of it for the children when they are hungry in the afternoon, or use it for sand-

"Pollyanna" has demonstrated an almost universal appeal with playgoers. It ranks with "Peg o' My Heart" as the two plays which have earned record stock company royalties and this year will be produced in 55 cities by repertoire organizations.

It presents Leona Powers in a role which she has been particularly anxious to play. And the little "glad girl," whose chronic optimism and refusal to look at life through drab glasses offers many fine moments of laughter, also has her brief lapses where the collective audience eye is inclined to moisten.

Exceptional opportunity in the casting is also provided for J. Glynn Mac-Farlane, leading man Katherine Givney. Adelaide Hibbard, Dorothy Tierney, Romaine Callender, Billy Phelps and other National favorites. The play will be directed by Clifford Brooke with appropriate settings provided by William Squires.

Rae Samuels, "The Blue Streak of Vaudeville," will headline the bill at B. F. Keith's Theater for the week of June 12. She will be assisted at the plano by Midred Land.

The versatile artist, Dave Apollon with his company will be featured in "An Apollonian Revue." The cast is a large one and Mr. Apollon has added the Manila Orchestra.

Comedy and music will be offered by Jerome and Gray in "Hoos Hoo."

Franklin Ardell, famous comedian, will be seen in his up to the minute laughing comedy, "The Man From Milamf," with Sonja Swan.

Making laughs is the job of Senator Murphy. "The people's choice" and he returns this week to prove he can do it.

Music with harmonicas, saws and other unusual instruments will be heard from Ted and Al Awidman in "bluology."

Les Ghezzi, the courageous equilibrists, will offer the thrills and the Taketas will bring inimitable feats of dexterity from Japan.

Columbia, Florence Vidor in "The World at Her Feet," is announced as the attraction.

In "The World at Her Feet," Miss Vidor plays the part of a woman lawyer. She and hubby are quite happy until a sudden abundance of money gives him an urge to retire. However, Jane (Miss Vidor) decides to continue her professional career. Of course, as might be expected, no one is surprised when "the world and his wife lay their troubles at her feet." So engrossed does she become in legal problems that thoughts of home and husband disappear. He finds himself drifting further and further away from the woman he loves. In despair, Richard finally hits on a plan to win her back. What it is and how it works will be disclosed at the Columbia. Arnold Kent is featured. Luther Reed directed. Additional features on the program include: Pathe News, Scenic, comedy and the Columbia ensemble directed by Leon Brusiloff.

Dear Viola Paris: Could you suggest some way to bleach an unsightly growth of hair on my upper lip? O. G.

Answer—A very satisfactory bleaching solution is made by mixing equal parts of hydrogen peroxide, fresh iemon-juice and spirits of ammonia. The bleach should be patted on the growth with absorbent cotton once a day and allowed to dry.

You needn't feel badly about making such an open confession of dyed hair, for you have not fooled any one with the dye—that's certain. Many women find it convenient to have the hair trimmed shorter than they are accustomed to wearing it so that the colored ends may be cut away. Others were transformations during the return to normal. Incidentally one need not cut one's hair to be fitted very satisfactorily with a transformation.

If the hair is in an unpleasing shade of gray, I know of a good preparation which will hasten the whitening process, at the same time acting as a tonic. I can not give trade names in this column. I am sorry.

Caleb H. Baumes, chairman of the New York State Crime Commission, in addressing the convention on the present day crime problem declared that the New York Legislature is going to continue to make it extremely uncomfortable in the State for the professional criminal. State Senator Baumes is the author of the now famous Baumes laws.

is the author of the now famous Baumes laws.

Speaking of the work of the commission of his State, he said: "The commission has made a good beginning and is headed in the right directon. At the next session of the legislature there will be a further cutting of red tape and effort made to simplify criminal procedure and to tighten up the Baumes law."

In the opinion of the speaker, given three more years on the statute books, the Baumes law would empty three prison cells of criminals for every one filled.

closing december at 16.99 and January at 17.05.

At these figures offerings increased as if some of yesterday's late buyers were inclined to accept their profits, while there was some Southern and local selling accompanied by private reports of rains in west Texas.

The detailed weather reports showing rains in Eastern belt sections were wanted, and a cessation of rain in the central belt, which has been complaining of excessive precipitation, naturally encouraged beariah or reactionary sentiment, and for a time the market was rather easy. July sold off to 16.25, December to 16.84, and January 16.91, or about 10 to 14 points from the high level of the morning. These official weather details, however, howed only a few light showers in west Texas, which may have disappointed earlier sellers on the private rain reports, and there was a renewal of covering in late trading. Prices railed back to nearly the high points of the morning and closed within two or three points of the best.

The weekly report of the Weather.

the high points of the morning and closed within two or three points of the best.

The weekly report of the Weather Bureau seemed to make a favorable impression on sentiment as to conditions over the greater part of the belt, and in the opinion of some traders the failure of this, combined with the better weather news from central and eastern belt sections, to cause more general selling, was one of the factors on the afternoon advance.

Long List of Stocks Scores
Good Gains; More New

CALL FUNDS 4 PER CENT

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, June 8.—The stock market exhibited remarkable rallying power today after an extended period of excited profit-taking and short selling and at the close many more new high levels had been established and a long list of stocks had scored net gains ranging up to 10½ points. The ralls. oils and United States Steel were centered upon in the last hour by traders for the rise, and they gave a very good account of themselves indeed. The closing tone was firm. Total sales were 2.723.000 shares.

Much of the buying of oils was for short account, although a good deal of it came from speculators always eager for active issues. Attention has been drawn to the petroleum group in the last few days by the sensational uprush of affiliated issues, like Texas Land Trust certificates and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil. All sorts of talk was heard that the situation in the oil industry had turned for the better, that conditions in Mexico, affecting the business, had improved, and that now the long dormant oil securities wisely could be bought.

The reduction in the call money rate to 4 per cent, the lowest in almost three weeks, gave encouragement to pools in opecialties, who read in the cut proof what banking authorities were not contemplating interference with the stock market speculation despite the recent large increase in brokers' loans.

Most of the day standard investment assues were moving steadily, though very slowly, lower, while the speculating interference with the stock market speculation despite the recent large increase in brokers' loans.

Then, in the last hour came the vigorous drive upward which raised prices all through the list. Insues on the day were of but a point or less.

Senator Smoot's announcement that Congress would be called into session in October was regarded as ammunition favorable to the bear side. The market seldom, if ever, relishes a meeting of the two legislative bodies. But there was no sign of perturbation in stock dealings.

Much of the speculative excitement was to be found in the rubber shares, which sild lower on a very active turnover as a result of today's cut in second-grade tires.

In the final rally the ralls and a few of the standard industrials developed remarkable strength. Lehigh Valley soared into new ground at 1834, a net gain of eight points. Rock Island also hit a new peak at 109%, up 1½ net. Denver & Rio Grande preferred gained 3½ points net, also scoring a new high record. Western Maryland registered a net advance of 2½ points to a new top. St. Louis & San Francisco was up 1½ net.

Chrysler led the industrials, from a high of activity, moving into new high ound at 51½, and closing a point hader that at a net gain of a point. The turnover in this stock totaled 193,100 shares. Strength was attributed to the operations of two groups which, it was stated, obtained options a few weeks ago on large blocks of stock at prices well above the market at that time. General Motors was subjected to strong selling pressure in the forenoon, but stood up well and in the late session rallied to close half a point ten, also and many others gained fractionally.

Atlantic Refining was an outstanding feature in the oil group, snapping into new high territory at 124½ and closing facture in the oil group, snapping into new high territory at 124½ and closing feature in the oil group, snapping into new high territory at 124½ and closing feature in the oil group, snapping into new high territory at 124½ and closing feature in the oil group, snapping into new high territory at 124½ and closing feature in the oil group, snapping into new high territory at 124½ and closing feature in the oil group, snapping into new high territ

Final Score Is 12-11. Huggmen Tie in 9th With 5-Run Rally.

N EW YORK, June 8.—Tony Lazzerl, the wonderful wop, hit three home runs today and was largely responsible for a totally unexpected and wildly hilarious eleventh-inning victory over the Chicago White Sox. The score was 12 to 11. The game was crowded with all that was good and bad in the way of baseball.

with all that was good and bad in the way of baseball.

No book was ever like it, because no one could imagine all the variety of incidents which led to the climax in the ninth inning and arrived at a stirring conclusion when Cedric Durst bounced a triple off the right field bleachers in the eleventh and Morehart hit a fly. which Bill Barrett did not even bother to catch, so surely did it mean the crossing of the winning run.

The Yankees were five runs behind when they went to but in their hair of the ninth. No one thought they would the the score, and when Combs led off and singled it seemed a waste of time. Many of the 20,000 patrons had gone. But those who remained will never forget the things what happened there in the twilight in the Yankee stadium.

The White Sox had scored in the second inning when Rib Falk put a home run into the right-field stands. The Yankees had matched that score and taken a 1-run lead when the wonderful "Wop," with Durst on first, lifted a home run just over the screen near the right-field foul line.

Combs had scored another run for the Yankees in the third and the White Sox had scored three runs in the fourth out of four hits and an error on the part of Morehart. Combs drove in two more runs for the Yankees in their half of the fourth and the score was 5 to 4 going into the first part of the fifth.

Dutch Ruether was pitching for the Yankees and Urban Faber and his spitball were working for the White Sox. Neither of them was in rare form. It was not the same Faber who beat the Yankees by a low score in Chicago "his year. But even so, Dutch was the first to go. He went in the next inning—the fifth—when John Clancy, the first man up, drove a home run into the right-field stands.

Wiley Moore took Ruether's place.

Wiley Moore took Ruether's place. By this time Lazzeri had been shifted from third to short. Dugan was playing third and Koenig was out for some unknown reason. Clancy's hit had tied the score and it was Moore's game to win or lose.

But the old sinker ball wasn't sink-ing as it should and before that inning was over the White Sox had scored an-other run by dint of a couple of hits past Dugan and a wild pitch by Mr. Moore.

Moore.

It looked as if the Yankees were stopped. The White Sox added another run to their score in the sixth, and two more in the eighth when Bill Barrett hit a home run into the left-field stands with Alex Metzler on secand by grace of a double. That made the score 9 to 5 in favor of the White

Faber seemed to weaken then. He walked Morehart and Collins, and Huggins sent Ben Paschal to bat for Moore. But Ben fanned and Morehart walked right into a double play, strolling toward third, when Paschal swung and being tagged without a struggle difference. The Yankees were five runs behind.

Joe Girard pitched the ninth, and Faber drove in two more runs, giving the White Sox their total of 11. It did not seem to make much difference. The Yankees were five runs behind.

But all of a sudden Combs singled. Ruth singled. It was his first and only hit. And Gehrig scored Combs with a double. Dugan had followed Combs and fouled to Crouse. Then Durst shot a single past Hunnefield. scoring Ruth and Gehrig, and Tony, the wonderful Wop, was up, and a home run would tie the score.

Ray Schalk waved Faber out of the box and called in George put over two quick strikes on Lazzeri and the groans of what was left of the 20,000 people could be heard for blocks. It was all over, it couldn't be done, so they said. Meanwhile Tony had taken two balls. And then, with two and two against him, he stepped into a fast one and pulled it into right field, where it barely topped the screen and landed in the bleachers so near the foul line that the White Sox tried to say it was CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 7. D. C. NETMEN PIRATES BOW TO DEFEND TO GIANTS. TROPHY 8 TO 7

Youths Named on Hotchkiss Team; Start Tomorrow.

FOUR youths, mere striplings, compared to the former members of Washington's Hotchkiss Cup players, will defend the trophy along with six veteran players at the annual tournament tomorrow and Saturday on the Baltimore Country Club courts.

The new men are Emmett Pare, sensational Georgetown University junior, and Gwynn King, Bob Considine and Dooley Mitchell, prominent local junior players. Tom Mangan and Clarence M. Charest, both former District champions, are the mainstays of the old guard nominated by Tom Mangan, team captain, among the ten defenders.

Baltimore, Norfolk and Richmond

Baltimore, Norfolk and Richmond are the other cities to be repre-sented in the Hotchkiss competi-tion, but on form shown during the past season's Baltimore and Wash-ington should emerge successfully

Last year the Capital netmen defeated the Oriole City entrants, 5 to 4, in closely contested matches. Mangan defeated Eddie Jacobs, Baltimore's leading junior, in the feature singles match. At present Jacobs holds the Washington singles championship, but Mangan is ranked higher in this section. Pare is expected to add considerably to Washington's chances this year. He will play No. 2, with Mangan No. 1, and both should turn in victories in their singles matches. They are teamed in the doubles, also, and between them should account for three points for the local racketers.

The players, in the order in which they will compete, are:
Singles-Mongan and Pare, Charest and Arthur Helben, King and Mitchell, Paul Harding and A. J. Gore.

Rice's Single Breaks Up Game

Lisenbee Bests Hudlin in Pitching Duel.

Nat Hurler Keeps 8 Hits Scattered and Strikes Out 5.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH.

HORACE LISENBEE was in excellent health yesterday, the cleve-land Indians will testify. The young Washington pitcher, in fact, was quite himself, which state of being is apt to win a lot of games for Washington. He became the hero of a pitching duel with young Wills Hudlin when a hit from an unexpected quarter in the ninth inning, off the bat of Sam-Rice, drove in the winning run of the contest.

of Sam Rice, drove in the winning run of the contest.

A hit by Sam Rice, especially a hit that wins a game, may be in itself a rarity, quite overshadowing Washington's victory, but the veteran outfielder need offer no apologies after yesterday's game. He slashed a ground ball at Shortstop Joe Sewell so hard that it skidded between Sewell's legs and carried on to the outfield, while Bob Reeves, who was on second base carried on to home plate with the run that scored a 2-to-1 victory for the home folk.

faced a pitching opponent whose mis-fortune it was to oppose the Washing-ton team when the latter had Lisenbee in the pitcher's box. Hudlin, a rookie like Lisenbee, pitched like a big leaguer, but a hit off the bat of Sam Rice would upset alfnost any pitcher.

It was a pretty duel that Lisenbee and Hudlin staged. Aided by support that fairly glistened despite Washington's one error, the they allowed most judiciously until Lisenbee allowed eight hits and Hudlin eleven. Both resorted to curve balls that were effective. Lisenbee, however, was almost a complete mystery to the Cleveland batters. He employed a deceptive motion that saw the Indians taking third swings at bad balls and watching slow ones floating over the plate. Lisenbee struck out five, but he fanned George Burns the third out at a tense moment, and struck out Luke Sewell in the ninth with a runner on third base.

Lisenbee helped win his own game in the ninth inning with a single to right field. Bluege, first up, singled so left, but was forced by Reeves. Reeves went to second on Lisenbee's hit which found him in a scoring position for Rice's single which followed.

The Washington pitcher showed his mettle at frequent times throughout the contest. He averted a scoring spree in the eighth when Jamleson and Neis singled successively with process.

seventh inning. Clarkson went on the slab in the ninth and retired the Pirates.

Trailing by three runs, the Giants got away to a good start in the ninth when catcher Jack Cummings drove out a home run. Pinch-hitter Devormer followed with a single. Lindström walked and both came in when Hornsby crashed for the circuit. Barnhart and Grantham hit homers inside the lot for the Pirates off Virgil Barnes.

As the field straightened out for the final drive, it became apparent that Nimba was not to be caught. The field star was running well within herself and when Thurber called on her she increased her advantage.

The old Rose purse for juveniles of the gentler sex, initial event, was won by Mrs. J. W. Bean's Turkey Neck at the lucrative odds of 8 to 1. Clairdine was a neck to the rear, four lengths in front of Boyish Bob, to finish second. The latter ran an even race to get inside the money. An even dozen contested with the time for the 4½ furlongs, 0:53 3-5, over a fast track.

contest since May ?9. His triple yesterday in the fourth, which was turned into the Nationals' first run, brought his game total to eleven straight.

report to Manager Harris this afternoon.

In pitching duels like yesterday's, when teams are playing for but a single run, the importance of sacrifice hitting is demonstrated. Had the Indians been adept at "laying 'em down," they might have won the game. Hodapp and Neis were successful once, but Summa's effort in the fifth with Hodapp on second, was a pop-foul to Ruel, and so was Fonseca's in the next frame with Jamieson on the middle sack.

Again in the ninth, after Jamieson had led off with a single, Hodapp gave Ruel another easy foul when he tried to sacrifice, while Summa, next up, sent his bunt straight to Lisenbee, who wheeled and killed Jamieson on a forceplay at Harris' station.

play at Harris' station.

Big league umpires act as though they are staging a "guessing contest" for the benefit of the fans and scribes when they call plays. Several close decisions were necessary in yesterday's game, but Umpire Nailin seemed to be too tired to make any motions tipping off his views.

The only way that fans and scribes could figure out some of his rulings was to wait until the base-runner either trotted off or remained on the sack. This apparent secrecy does not help the game any.

HARPS MEET $150,000 FIRE AT BOWIE TRACK

> Destroyed by Early Morning Blaze.

Farmers living near by were also attempted to check the flames with bucket lines and small hoses run

Beneath the stands were stored four motor trucks, track equipment; including harrows, floaters, drags and a chemical engine which could not be reached. The loss is covered completely by insurance.

Richard Pending, who has been superintendent at the Bowle track for the past ten years, stated that the high voltage wires are run through these buildings for use in the track's printing plant for lighting facilities, and possibly these might have become short-circuited, causing the configration. No other cause could be assigned.

The owners of the track, who also are the proprietors of Thorncliffe Park at Toronto, Canada, are motoring to Baltimore from that place, due to the closing of the Thorncliffe Track Monday, and know nothing of the Bowle loss. They are expected to reach Baltimore tomorrow evening. Mr. Fending, however, is of the opinion that new and larger steel and concrete stands and clubhouse will be erected and that everything will be completely restored for the fall meeting, November 18.

Dundee and Latso only drew about $80,000, with the welterweight championship at stake last week, and Sharkey and Maloney were good for only $134,000 at the turnstiles. A few years ago Joe Lynch and Little Jack Sharkey, the bantamweights, drew that sort of money in the old Garden without a title between them.

This is not to say that the boys are underpaid. On the contrary, the recent alump in the takings only indicates that the customers are alonly acquiring a discriminating sense of values. Keen Sense of Values.

After he began to have delusions of pugilistic magnificence it took a peculiar decision to save him from Ermino Spalla, the Italian, in the eleventh round of a dull, dawdling fray. On this occasion, Tunnsy, the counterfighter, was bumping Spalla monotonously when, in the eleventh round, Spalla auddenly unleashed a right swing that caught Gene on the head and started him tipping.

At that, the referee stepped in and stopped the bout, on the ground that Spalla was outclassed. This conquest is one of the proud entries in Gene's record, but the fact is that the referee's strangs decision caused much talk at the time.

So, although Gene is a fine counterfighter and a fine knuckle-mechanic it will take a very colorful party of the second part to attract the interest of the customers and Jack Sharkey, who doubtless will get the match isn't exactly a peacock for color.

In fact, Sharkey was up before the mast in this very town a year or so ago for stalling in a bout with Johnny Risko and explained to the prize fight commission that he didn't stall but was just a punk fighter.

The cost of heavyweight champi The cost of heavyweight champion-ship fights since Dempsey won the title in 1919 has been $5,487,415. This represents the receipts of seven bouts, including three that drew more than $1,000,000 each. Radio Official Declares Dot and Dash System to Be Supplanted by Pictures.

HIGH SPEED ERA HERE

We are just entering upon an era of ammunication by the square inch, ac-ording to David Barnoff, of New York, vice president of the Radio Corporation of America, who predicts that the dot and dash system of transmission new niversally in use, would eventually in use, would eventually ive way to facismile, or visual transission, when the complete message or course would be flashed across oceans continents in photographic form.

"It is an interesting reflection," h ted out. "that after thousands of ears of communication experience nd will probably go back, not in the too far future, to picture transmis-aion-pictures of words as well as of photographic reproductions of images for the basis of his written communi-cations system. We are just entering upon the era of communication by the square inch.

"The problem of a practical system of facsimile transmission is the problem of obtaining high speed transmission. The basis aiready has been laid by the photoradiogram service now in commercial operation. During the past year we have transmitted hundreds of photographs, sketches and architects' drawings by radio between New York and Europe.

"From an average sending time of 40 minutes per photograph, when the service was first established a Jittle over a year ago, the commercial time of transmission has been reduced to 20 minutes. Under laboratory conditions recently photographs have been transmitted by our engineers in two minutes with satisfactory detail. Much greater speeds are expected in the future."

The W. B. & A. Quartet, regularly heard over WRC on Priday nights, will so on the air tonight from 0 to 9:30 o'clock. The sponsors of the quartet gave up their regular Priday period to that WRC might broadcast the speech by President Coolidge before the Bureau of the Budget meeting, which in turn had to be moved up a day because of the Lindberg celebration Saturday night. Among the numbers on the program tonight are "In a Little Old Garden." "Mighty Lak" a Rose," "My Wonderful One," "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian" and "Sweet and Low." Following the quartet there will be an "old time fiddlers' concert" by a group of these musicians from Culpeper. Va. Tonight's program will come to a close with an hour of dance music by the Le Paradis Band.

Hans Barth, WEAF's concert pianist, will present a Grieg program in the "Half Hour With Great Composers" at 7:30 o'clock. With orchestral accompaniment, he will render "To Spring." "Dance Caprice" and "Erotik."

Another of the popular afternoon programs will be broadcast in conjunction with WEAF at 3 o'clock, presenting Fenner's Syncopated Orchestra. Elaine Horton, contralto: Nicholas Saslavsky, barytone: Joel Coffey, pianist: the Waldorf Orchestra and baseball scores for the day.

The Army Band concert from the east front of the Capitol is the high light of Scieck tonight. The Dugan Melody Boys will offer a program of dance num-bers to the listeners to Station WSAI, at Cincinnati, at 10 o'clock. George Olsen and his orchestra are holding forth at WPG, Atlantic City, tonight at 8 o'clock, followed by the Boardwalk Charmers, and the Parodians At 12 o'clock WLW, at Cincinnati, will put on its regular midnight frolic. LONG DISTANCE MOVERS

American Druggists Syndicate

This company has recently undergone a change in its policy. Formerly it was a manufacturer and distributor of some 3,000 items of drugs and drug sundries, but in August, 1925, the corporation transformed its character to a manufacturer and seller of a small line of faster moving articles. A con-centration of manufacturing plants was effected and other economies were brought about. In July, 1926, D. A. Schulte, of the Schulte Retail Stores, the American Druggists Syndicate annual dividends at the rate of 6 per cent a year for ten years, providing a new entirely owned subsidiary of the American Druggists Syndicate should be formed to distribute Vivaudou, Park & Tilford and Djer-kiss products. Under this arrangement, Mr. Schulte was to assume management as president and the American Druggists Syndicate was to issue remaining unissued and authorized stock to the Schulte Retail Stores Corporation. This plan was approved last August. It is expected that the new arrangement will greatly benefit the company, which had reported small profits in recent years prior to 1926, in which year a net loss of $329,935 was experienced.

The company paid dividends in every which year a net loss of sost, we experienced.

The company paid dividends in every year from 1911 to 1920, inclusive, at rates ranging between 2 per cent and 8 per cent, with the exception of a 3 per cent payment made in 1925, no dividends have been paid since 1920. (All rights reservd, Cambridge Associates, Boston.)

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, June 8 (By the Associated Press).—Aside from strength of oil shares and a handful of specialties, a downward trend occurred in the curb market today, numerous recessions ranging from 2 to 5 points. At no time was there a consistent general trend, some shares which declined charply making up most of their losses, while early advances in others subsequently were reduced or wiped out.

Humble Oil was the outstanding leader of the petroleum group, selling up 3 points in anticipation of increased earnings through development of the west Texas field. Other oil shares drived stimulation, including Tidal Osage and Standard of Ohio. The pipe lines were strong, Prairie toucking a new peak at 177, and closing with a gain of 3½ points on the day, while Illinois soared 5½.

Bancitaly was heavily dealt in, establishing a new peak, but later losing all the gain. Financial & Industrial Securities continued its sensational advance and reached a new maximum of 105. Celluloid common and preferred also were active and strong, both improving their previous best price. Conspicuous among the heavy often early and the loss.

Conspicuous among the heavy often were sugar shares, including on the collaneous issues as Royal Balang Powder, which dropped; Pillispiry Flour, 4 American Manufacturing 3, and Warner Bothers Pictures, Davega Inc. Glen Alden and Ford of Canada, 1% to 2.

Common stock of the General Laundry Machinery Corporation, 25,000 shares of which were recently offered at $20 a share, will be admitted to trading on the curb tomorrow. The stock has been traded in over the counter recently between 21 and 21½.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO 'HAIN.

Chicago, June 8 (By A. P.).—All grain prices worked downward today, at the last, uncertainty, over proposed trade legislation at Springfield having a depressing effect. There was much bullish news in regard to wheat, but sustained buying falled to follow upturns. Wheat closed weak, % to 1½ c het lower, corn % to 1c off, oats unchanged to ½ c up and provisions varying from 10c decline to a rise of 7c.

decreased 15.085.000 bushels for the week, showing unusually rapid distribution. On the other hand weather and crop conditions were favorable for domestic winter wheat and for spring wheat both north and south of the Canadian line.

Enlarged seeding operations attended by more suspicious weather did a good deal to ease down corn market. Moreover, talk was current that quick-growing varieties of seed are sald to have yet ample time to mature ahead of frost. Oats were steadled by assertions that the crop shows a spotted condition in many places.

Provisions displayed a firm understone owing to signs of a fair investment demand for September and October lard.

Luray, Va., June 8.—The dream of a hard-surfaced macadam road running the entire breadth of Page County was realized today when the Lee highway, a portion of which runs for 20 miles through this county, was opened to the public after having been closed many months.

The old wagon trail, which for centuries was used to transport produce and commerce from this and adjoining valley counties to Fredericksburg, is now a paved highway from the top of the Blue Ridge Mountains in the Shenandoah National Park area to the highest peak in the Massanutten Mouns.
